

Gravicapa a fictional device, a key element of the plot of the Soviet science fiction feature film Kin-dza-dza!

The gravitsappa is an egg-shaped metal body about 10-15 cm in size, consisting of two moving parts that easily rotate relative to each other. The lower part of the device is made of yellow metal.